Standing Up For What Is Right:
Zimbabwe - Mike Campbell's Struggle

1. If you could ask anyone in the film a single question who would you ask and what would you ask him or her? Why?
2. What did you learn from the this film? What insights did it provide.
3. If a friend asked you about what this film was about what would you tell them the key themes are?
4. Describe a moment or scene in the film that you found particularly disturbing or moving. What was it about that scene that was so compelling for you?
5. Few of us have decisions in our own lives as difficult as those made by Campbells. You do have decisions that you face on almost a daily basis in which you have to choose the hard choice that is right or follow the simple, easy path out. What examples of this can you think of and how did you respond in at least one of these circumstances?
